

Cromwell

Chinoise Fret Fireplace Screen in Bronze

Why fret? Because you're a fan of chinoiserie chic—in 1760 or 2020. Thomas Chippendale illustrated designs for "Chinese Railing" in his furniture style bible, The Gentleman's and Cabinet-Maker's Director, first published in 1754. From London to Williamsburg, fashionable houses incorporated porch railings and stair balustrades designed in the Chinese manner. We've interpreted a fretwork porch railing from the one of the grandest town houses in Williamsburg Robert Carter's house next to the Governor's Palace for our Chinoise Fret collection.

Chinoise Fret Fireplace Screen in Bronze
A6 4.90157

Dimensions
1041 X 203 X 787MM HIGH

Status
NOT IN STOCK

